ProMat 2011

We are delighted to inform you that Qubiq will participate at the ProMat 2011 material handling and logistics expo from March 21 to 24 at McCormick Place, Chicago, Illinois, USA.

Our main focus will be on the Layer Picker and the many new application possibilities.

Qubiq is located in booth # 4422

We are looking forward to seeing existing and new partners and customers

The world leader in layer picking

At Qubiq we have the experience of more than 140 successful global Layer Picker installations. We believe that the answer to increasing picking and distribution requirements is versatility and flexibility. With our unique vacuum technology and the new robot and gantry solutions we can provide a spectrum of applications that will maximize the range of applicable products to be handled as well as optimize the efficiency and sequence of order building.
